Memorial

Every year across Canada flags are flown at half-mast and vigils, conferences and demonstrations are held on December 6th in remembrance and action on violence against women and June 23rd in remembrance for victims of terrorism. These two dates are the anniversaries of the Polytechnique tragedy and the bombing of Air India Flight 182, respectively. Select an act of terrorism in Canada (such as the Polytechnique tragedy, the bombing of Air India Flight 182, or a different act of terrorism if you have been given teacher approval) and design a memorial (statue, monument, fountain, park, sculpture, etc.) using any form you like. On a separate sheet of paper, propose a location where the memorial should be built along with an explanation of why you chose this place. Include in your write up the words of an inscription which informs visitors to the memorial of: The event that the memorial commemorates, the date of the event, the people that it commemorates, how many died, how and why they died, where they died, and why the event is significant. While planning your memorial, be sure to conduct research on your act of terrorism so you can provide a detailed and accurate response.
